First Create in the Crest Arts Festival scheduled for June 18

WILDWOOD CREST – The first Create in the Crest Arts Festival, an event designed to showcase various types of art, will be held Saturday, June 18, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Centennial Park in Wildwood Crest.

Hosted by the Wildwood Crest Creative Arts Council, the Create in the Crest Arts Festival will feature local artists, entrepreneurs, musicians and other creators displaying, selling and teaching their art.

Admission to the Create in the Crest Arts Festival is free.

Attendees will have the opportunity to not only experience various types of art but also learn how to create art from some of the artists themselves via short free classes and workshops.

The Create in the Crest Arts Festival's vendors include handmade arts and crafts, handmade jewelry, pottery, hand-painted floral designs, sea glass art, silk screening, wooden enamel art and more. Free classes will be available in a variety of art forms. Registration for art classes will take place on the day of the event.

The event will also feature live original music by Camille Peruto (10:30 a.m.) and Meabh Stanford (12 noon).

Rain date for the Create in the Crest Arts Festival is Sunday, June 19, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Art vendors can still register for the event. Vendor fee is $60, although the vendor fee is waived if the artist agrees to teach a 20- to 30-minute class in relation to his or her craft.

For more information about the Create in the Crest Arts Festival or to inquire about registering as a vendor for the event, email cac@wildwoodcrest.org or call (609) 523-0202.
